Scoutmaster Minute Possibilities:

- There is no pleasure that comes near to that of preparing your own meal over your little fire of wood embers at the end of the day, and no scent like the smell of that fire.
- Nature has her spring clean. And we, human people, follow her lead: we clean up our minds and our blood by getting out into the open once more for camping and hiking
- Hiking on the open road brings you the joy of health in the wind and limb, and what a glorious feeling is that of absolute fitness! Also it brings you all the fun of observation of birds and plants and people, together with the adventure of new places and new scenes.

All thoughts are from Lord Baden-Powell
